Rheumatism cured in 24 hours
T. J. Blackburn, of Butler, a Blackhawk, Pittsburg, Pa., says: "A short time since I procured a bottle of Dr. DeLoach's Relief for Rheumatism. It got me out of the house in 24 hours. I took to my bed with rheumatism nine months ago and Dr. DeLoach's Relief for Rheumatism is the only medicine that did me any good. I had five of the best physicians in the city, but I received very little relief from them. I know Dr. DeLoach's Relief for Rheumatism to be what it is represented and take pleasure in recommending it to other poor sufferers."

INSTITUTE CLOSING FRIDAY AFTERNOON

G. W. Hays is Re-elected President.

INSTITUTE MOST SUCCESSFUL

Officers for Next Year Are Chosen.

Teachers Say This Year's Institute Has Been Most Instructive and Enjoyable—The Attendance Has Been Very Large at Every Program. The Lecturers Leave Many Friends Here.

The closing session of the teachers' institute, which was held Friday afternoon, was opened with the election of officers. The election resulted in the following manner: G. W. Hays, re-elected president; Miss Ada Havill, secretary; T. E. Bolander, corresponding secretary; S. C. Smith, vice president. Following the business meeting Mrs. B. L. Wallace rendered two very pleasing vocal selections and Prof. Bellinger sang a song.

The committee on resolutions composed of A. D. Wells, A. F. Dantzer and Miss Ella Rhodes, reported on the resolutions, which were adopted by the institute. A special resolution made in regard to certain rules of conduct in connection with the institute, was offered by the committee, but was rejected by the institute.

Prof. Pearson was next introduced, who spoke on the subject "The Drama." Prof. Pearson began his address by thanking the members of the institute for their courtesy and kindness to him and assured them that this week's program would always remain a bright spot in his memory of Marion.

"The drama," he said, "is peculiarly an art for the people. It is capable of summing up the conflicts and aspirations of a whole race. It foreshadows the future and renews the past. The drama had its origin in the hearts of the people. It then exerted a refining influence. The drama is the elemental part of mankind. It expresses man's passionate joy of life. It is a power in the social and civic life of any country, and is a maker of action."

There are two objects which I want to bring to you today. The theater is here. It is not an abstract thing which we have to deal with. It is a condition. I repeat, the theater is here. Some people hold up their hands at the word theater, and run away. But the majority of the people run to it instead of away from it. They don't ask about it there. They just go. Just the same as we go to the dinner-table. We don't stop to ask what is there, we go. That is one fact. The theater is here. Now, what are we going to do about it? As teachers and parents we must remember that the theater is the most powerful factor for good or evil according to what is there. At the theater we are in the most susceptible mood. There is the music, the light, the people are well dressed and happy, we are getting away from the humdrum realities of life, and—there is the curtain. This curtain exerts a magical influence. Behind it lies fairyland. When it rolls slowly up it reveals a scene that may not be unlike our own home or town, but, the atmosphere is different. The people who come from behind the scenes speak differently, act differently, they all are clothed in the magical robe of romance. The speeches, costumes, settings, all are arranged to throw a glamour of unreality over the scene. We are in our most susceptible mood.

We hear all over the country today a plea for good literature. The same plea is coming to be made for the theater. Some people find the theater in books, and can sit for hours deep in the works of some good author. But there are many who cannot enjoy reading. There are thousands who must turn to the theater as their source of amusement. Now, it is just as desirable that they go to a good theater as that they should read a good book. Then, what are we going to do about it? First of all, we must see that good plays are put on. I think we should encourage amateur plays. Good plays. I don't mean by that, solemn, serious plays. Put on a good farce, a good comedy. But what are we going to do with the plays that are not clean? We can boycott them. Just stay away from them and don't say anything about them, and when you do hear of a good play, talk it up. We need a frank, unadorned public that will only go to approved plays." Prof. Pearson closed his address by repeating "The Bell," by Edgar Allan Poe.

Following the recess, Prof. McMurtry appeared for the last time and spoke on the subject, "The Place of Manual Arts in the School." He said in part:

"The industrial world of today has gotten into the school. Now we have the cooking school, the dramatic, the trade-learning department, the gymnasium and many other departments which were unknown to the school-room when I was a school boy. Now we combine the study room with the play room, the physical development with the mental development. With the introduction into the school of industrial and home activities, we complete the circle of action in the school." Prof. McMurtry then spoke of the impulse for physical activity inherent in children. "The introduction of all these industrial and social activities into the school, satisfies this," he declared. The speaker then mentioned the combination of art and industry. "These nations are leading today whose products of industry are combined with art," was his statement.

"No one can accomplish much in the industrial world, who is not first a thinker. These studies develop the thought power and the inventive genius of the child." The world is gradually growing more beautiful. Every article in common use today is being

Why It Succeeds

Because It's For One Thing Only, and Marion People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

They help sick kidneys.

They relieve backache, kidney and bladder trouble.

Here is reliable evidence to prove it.

Mrs. John Hipp, 561 Maple street, Bucyrus, Ohio, says: "I cannot speak too highly in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered severely from pains through the small of my back and it was only with great difficulty that I was able to arise from a stooped position. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and it was not long after using them that I was restored to health." (Statement given in 1909.)

A Lasting Cure.

On November 20, 1907, Mrs. Hipp said: "Although it is seven years since I first used Doan's Kidney Pills, I can say that I hold just as high an opinion of them. I have enjoyed good health since they cured me." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McLurg Co., Buffalo, N. Y. (Sole agents for the United States. Today How tried to get the railroad companies to place flat cars at the disposal of the sons of rest. Among those who will address the convention, according to How, are Vice President Sherman, Alexander Law of New York, who originated the eight hour law; Dr. Frank Hamilton of Philadelphia; Nicholas Klein of Cincinnati; and Cora D. # PROMOTERS ARE IN MARION TODAY

Working For Line From Sidney to Marion.

J. R. Snowball of Evansville, Indiana, J. C. Martin and R. L. Wharton of Belle Center, Ohio, were in the city today endeavoring to interest Marion business men in the proposed new interurban line from Lewistown, Pa., to Marion, Ohio, possibly from Sidney to Marion. These routes have been proposed for this line but the promoters are working on the one regarded as the most desirable. It would take the line through Jackson Center, starting at Sidney, through Russell's Point, Orchard Island, Belle Center, Ridgeway, Mt. Victory, LaRue and to Marion.

The three promoters state that they have been meeting with much encouragement.

Accused of Stealing. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Mo., boldly accuses Buckner's Armistice of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at Tschannen Bros.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. "Golden Medical Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

TRAINS COLLIDE ON THE HOCKING

Freight Train Hits Passenger at Prospect.

TRAINS BADLY DAMAGED

Wreck Occurs at the Prospect Station.

No One Injured by Everybody Badly Shaken—Baggage Cars Has Side Crushed—Freight Engine Thrown From Track Into Bank.

Prospect, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—South bound passenger No. 26, which arrives at Prospect at 7:37 p. m. was sidetracked by north bound freight No. 23-25, Friday evening.

The freight train pulled by one of the new engines had taken the north bound siding to let the south bound passenger pass. It was in the clear and running slow and evidently the air brakes failed to work sufficiently to stop the train, owing to the force of the moving cars behind, and it collided with the passenger which had run a little too far past the station. The writer was less than 200 feet from the place where the accident happened. Before the trains collided a cry of horror came from nearly all the passengers on the train, as they saw the freight engine approaching. Instantly following was the crash, during which time the passengers were nearly frantic. Every one on the train was badly shocked but fortunately no one received any injuries.

The freight engine had struck No. 26 in the front end of the passenger car, smashing it and throwing the freight engine about four feet off the track—plowing into the embankment. The side of the baggage car was smashed in, but the passenger engine escaped all injuries, being further down the track.

The frightened passengers were put aboard the remaining cars and another engine pulled them to Marion. From there they continued their journey over the Pennsylvania railroad to Columbus.

The wreck train arrived from Columbus at 12 o'clock and was not long in clearing the main track. It required much work with the derricks and hydraulic jacks to place the engine on the track again, but all was fortunate that the wreck was no worse.

Hill and Gould to Reconstruct.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 25.—That the Hill and Gould railroads are preparing to follow the example of the Harriman lines and enter upon a campaign of retrenchment, is the statement made today by Denver railroad men.

The expected retrenchment will be in the nature of the discharge of any clerks, shopmen, etc., without whom the roads can at present get along. It is believed that there will be no decrease in the number of trains operated but rather that the operating department forces will be reduced to the minimum number of men whom it is possible to operate trains.

A department local road officer said today:

"The railroads are looking ahead a bit. They are considering the fact that soon their revenues will be reduced materially by the compulsory readjustment of rates under the recent rulings of the Interstate Commerce commission and they are taking the bull by the horns and are cutting their expenses now while the margins of profits for a few weeks may be large enough to overcome the deficit they expect during the first few weeks the new rates are in force.

WOMAN ARRESTED BY LOCAL POLICE

Said to Have Stolen $50 in Columbus.

AN AGED MAN IN PRISON

Eighty-two Years Old But Becomes Intoxicated.

Mrs. Bertha Dickerson Wanted in Columbus on Charge of Larceny. Officer Arrives in Marion and Returns With Prisoner—Samuel Jones is Arrested in Company With Samuel Thornton, Colored.

About three months ago, the Columbus authorities notified the local police that Bertha May Dickerson, formerly of this city, was wanted for stealing $50 from a home in Columbus where she had been employed. Yesterday afternoon, the police learned that Mrs. Dickerson was in the city and she was arrested at the home of her husband on North Main street by Chief of Police Kinschetter and Officer Thompson. She was held in the city prison until this morning when an officer arrived from Columbus and returned with his prisoner.

Some time ago, Mrs. Dickerson served time in the Columbus workhouse after being convicted of stealing jewelry in Gallon. Soon after her release, she secured employment in a Columbus home and it was there that the alleged robbery was committed. She left Columbus suddenly and soon after her disappearance the money was missed.

One of the oldest men ever arrested for intoxication spent the night in the city prison. He gave his name as Daniel Jones and his home as any place he happens to be working which is on a farm near Richwood at the present time. Jones is 82 years old, his hair is snow white and, despite the fact that he had consumed a great quantity of whiskey yesterday afternoon, he is enjoying the best of health.

Jones was arrested in company with Samuel Thornton, colored, of No. 1 State street, late yesterday afternoon by Chief Kinschetter and Officer Thompson. They had been creating a disturbance on North State street. Both were fined $5 and costs this morning by Mayor Seiter. Jones was released after promising faithfully to pay the fine. Thornton's fine was paid by a friend this afternoon and he was released.

The police received a communication from Columbus Friday night, asking them to arrest Charles Wilcox, who is charged with stealing a pair of shoes from Lewis Young, of White street, Columbus. A description of Wilcox was given but the officers were unable to locate him in this city.
